

W. R. Watt To Direct Development

The appointment of William R. Watt to direct the new land development division of the Ray Watt Construction Co. was announced yesterday by President Ray A. Watt.

Watt, a former Naval officer in charge of construction at a midwestern strategic air command base and 1961 Stanford graduate, will coordinate the activities of outside land development in addition to supervising the preliminary land planning for all future condominium projects.

Although his present assignment is his first permanent one in the Watt organization, he has worked for the firm in a wide variety of positions since 1954. He has previous experience in the office engineering section, architect and design division, customer service department, and as an assistant construction superintendent.

Powder Blue, Black Marks Carson High

By CARMELITA CABARON Student Reporter

The uniform this year will be a pretty powder blue skirt with black pleats all around, a white blouse and a powder blue V-neck sweater.

Is this the uniform for the football team? Of course not. This uniform will be worn by the eight Carson High Songleaders.

They are: Helen LaLonde, Estrella Liwanag, Bonnie Nuez, Karen Andressen, Linda Gilmore, Jean Hoyny, and the girls Head Songleader, Sandy Messer.

The boys uniforms are black slacks, a button down powder blue sweater, a black tie and a white tab collar short sleeve shirt.

The boy yell leaders are Dick Larsen, Tom Halpin, Jim Potter, and the head yell leader of both boys and girls, Fermin Ponce de Leon. All the games should be pretty lively this season — or at least colorful.

THE FORMER Fullerton High School graduate attended Stanford University where he received his master of science degree in civil engineering (construction). While at Stanford he was a member of Tau Beta Pi, national honorary engineering society, and played on the varsity water polo team.

During his two-year tour as a Lieutenant (j.g.) in the Navy Reserve, William R. served as resident officer in charge of construction at Bunker Hill Air Force Base in Peru, Ind., where he directed more than 1.3 million dollars worth of construction of administrative building, runway and apron lighting, and airfield paving.

The native Southern Californian is the son of William S. Watt, executive vice president of the Ray Watt Construction Co. He lives in Torrance with his wife Deanne and young son James Patrick.

'Thieves Carnival' Opens Tomorrow

"Thieves Carnival," a four-act comedy by Jean Anouilh, will open tomorrow evening at the Chapel Theatre for a five-weekend run. Curtain time for opening night will be 8:30 p.m.

Director Ed Long will also double as one of three pickpockets in the production. The play centers on a carnival attended by three pickpockets, and the riotous scenes created by their constant disguises and clever use of the carnival promise audiences some very funny moments.

Fred West of Los Angeles and Ed Rice of Hollywood complete the pickpocket trio. Others in the cast include Sue Sábás and Jeannie Appel, both of Torrance, who provide the romantic interests.

ALSO IN featured roles are Noel Shire of Torrance, Warren Lavendar of Hermosa Beach, and Sallie Conrad of Torrance. Warren Dieter and Dennis Morgan portray a father-son set, and Noreen Anderson completes the cast.

Quick costume changes and the anything-goes-characterizations in the play create more than enough work for backstage crews.

Five evenings have already sold out, reports the box office, and reservations should be made well in advance of the evening desired. Tickets are $1.50 on Fridays and Sundays, and $1.75 on Saturdays. Curtain time for all performances is 8:30 p.m.

Reservations and ticket information may be obtained by calling the box office at FRontier 2-9636.
